

Crow Moon, Anna McKerrrow

Witches rule the pagan Greenworld in a dystopian Britain where the capitalist Redworld is falling apart. Danny is the first male with powers in a long time.

How to Hang a Witch, Adriana Mather

Set in modern-day Salem with links back to the days of the witch trials, this combines high school politics with the supernatural and a historical mystery.

WEEKLY READING RECOMMENDATIONS

Theme for the week: Witches

The Graces, Laure Eve

Everyone loves the Graces – and everyone says they're witches. Mean Girls meets The Craft in this creepy contemporary high school drama.

Witchstruck, Jane Holland.

A Tudor setting, so plenty of witchy intrigue in the time of the Witch Finders. Magical advice for the imprisoned Elizabeth (sister of Queen Mary), but danger for her witch confidante.
