

Weekly reading recommendations

This half term's focus = escapist reading for the revision season for this week:

High Fantasy – escape into magical worlds

The Sin Eater's Daughter,
Melinda Salisbury.

Magic, politics and deadly power games drag Twylla into a mess she seems ill-equipped to cope with (trilogy)

Six of Crows, Leigh Bardugo

Fab but crazy heist novel set in a fantasy universe. Six misfits must learn to work together – the job requires all of them (duology)

Between Two Thorns, Emma Newman (note: adult, not YA).

Complex, large cast novel in which our magic-free world is known as Mundanus, but there also exists the Nether, where those who are 'fae-touched' live in eternal Edwardiana, and Exilium, where the fae themselves reside. Politics, manners and magic (series = 5)
